More Co-operation Wanted

ONCE again clashing of dates with the Schools has been worrying many officials, from international down to county level. Though there is a Schools Consultative Committee and some liaison between the Schools and the A.A.A. it seems obvious that there is insufficient co-operation in the matter of dates and if the desired harmony is ever to be obtained, closer liaison and a little more co-operation and goodwill are essential.

The majority of the Schools athletics officials are most helpful and are keen to avoid these clashes. Tied to school term Saturdays in most cases, this is not always easy, and with national, area and county A.A.A. and W.A.A.A. championship dates to avoid, in some cases a clash of dates may be inevitable. It is when we come to representative matches that it may be most difficult and with so many still at school until they are 18, the young athletes concerned may sometimes have divided loyalties, with pressure brought to bear on them from the Schools to put their event first. This is something which should never be allowed to happen and is where greater co-operation is essential.

A.A.A. Team Manager Cecil Dale feels that he is being dictated to by the Schools in some instances, and this just is not good enough. Comparatively small (County) Schools fixtures should not be allowed to interfere with national representative fixtures; and it is really coming to something when the A.A.A. Team Manager is told that the A.A.A. have no right to select certain boys. If they are that good, they should automatically be selected for their County Team in the English Schools Championships and be considered for any Schools Internationals, and if they compete when selected for A.A.A. teams, this should not debar them from any Schools events. Otherwise we have the tail wagging the dog!

When it comes down to County level, it is here that we find some Schools' officials who have no interest in what happens outside their own sphere. In the recent Kent County Women's Championships, four Schools District Associations ignored the advice that these Championships were to be held on May 20th and arranged to hold their own District Sports on the same day, thus depriving the County meeting of a number of outstanding young athletes who were told that if they did not compete in their Schools events, they would not be considered for the Schools County or National Championships.

This is happening far too frequently, with the young athlete—for whom all these events are being organised—considered least of all. All the Schools Associations are normally affiliated to the A.A.A. and W.A.A.A., from county level to the top, and this being so, the governing body's Championships — national, area and county—should take priority and the Schools should fit their events in on other dates. This could be done, providing the officials concerned have the necessary interest and goodwill to put the young athletes first. At present a number—small at national level but much more numerous at lower levels—have no interest in athletics outside the Schools. They profess their interest in their young charges; it is time they let their actions match their words.

EARLIER PLEASE !

Dear Mr. Editor,

Having listened all afternoon to some rather poor announcing at the Twilfit Trophy at Portsmouth, I eventually lined up at 5.30 p.m. for the start of the 3000 metres steeplechase.

On completion of the race, having finished third, I jogged around to await the announcement of placings and times. After a short wait came the result of the first string race: "1st Tulloh, 2nd Burt, 3rd Hillier"—"good old John" I thought, "he's only twice my size and weight and one of the finest discus throwers in the country." However, as I was wearing my correct number I put it down to an administrative error. I then waited for third place time. Over came the announcement "no times have been given". By this stage the joke was wearing thin—especially as we were given distinct lap times during the race.

Wanting particularly to know my time, I approached the announcer's box. After a polite enquiry I was told that the steeplechase times were not available, but that if I were to find the chief timekeeper he would know. On asking where the official could be found I was then told he had left for home—delightful! Again, this may have been more duff information from the gentleman in the announcer's box. It is enough having to wait all afternoon for competition (the steeplechase is often the last event, bar the relays, on a programme) without the sort of treatment outlined above.

In conclusion, I would like to propose that consideration be given by more meeting organisers to moving the steeplechase away from its traditional lowly position on the programme. If the steeplechase were to be held in the middle of the afternoon perhaps the event would be seen by more spectators and athletes—some of whom may be encouraged to try the event themselves. The event (in British eyes) graduated from being a comedy turn when Chris Brasher won his Olympic title, so why not encourage others to join the "steeplechase pyramid" by holding the event before 75% of the spectators and athletes have gone home.

Yours sincerely,
Brian Goodfellow

WASTE OF MONEY, SAYS PIRIE

Dear Sir,

The state of British Athletics appears to be near bankruptcy both morally and financially. In these circumstances the waste of large sums of money on High Altitude adventures is to be abhorred. This money would be better spent for the benefit of the Sport as a whole.

With regard to the Mexico City visit of last year it is astonishing to see that the physical activities which the "guinea-pigs" went through would have contributed in a major way to the destruction of the athletes' abilities—regardless of the altitude effects. It is a crying shame that sensible training was not done by the athletes in question in view of the amount of money involved.

No doubt Dr. Pugh could have given all the information that is now available without moving from his desk in London, such is his eminence and authority on the subject of High Altitude and exertions.

Yours sincerely,
Gordon Pirie

15 YEARS & STILL GOING STRONG

Dear Sir,

Can one of the older generation (36) be allowed a few lines in your admirable publication?

For many years I have been incensed by the sports writers of the popular press who seem to consider that any sportsman is "over the hill" once he has reached the age of 25. It is, of course, true that the majority of athletes display the best of their talents before this age. But surely the reason for this is not physical but it is a question of circumstance. Most of us find that the responsibilities of marriage and a career cannot be successfully combined with the athletic pursuits that we would wish.

However, there are those athletes, and how I admire them, who do continue in their chosen sport beyond 25 or even 35, AND are still setting personal bests. Which brings me to the point of my letter. I can stomach the inane remarks of the popular press but I am galled to read in A.W. that "grand old warrior George Knight"; or "that veteran Harland". They have been around a few years, Mr. Editor, but can we keep things in proper proportion?

Yours sincerely,
R. E. D. Church
Essex Beagles A.C.

Melvyn Watman states that it was in admiration of George Knight's performances 15 years after he first came into National prominence with 14:14.8 in the Inter-County 3 Miles—a best performance by a 19 year old—that he referred to him as that "grand old warrior", not because of his actual age of 34. This is good going by any standards. Ken Harland is the same age.

The Paignton "15" is being revived this year on June 24 after 14 years. Sec. is W. Cann, Afton Cottage, nr. Totnes, Devon.

Scots Steal Show at Longwood Meeting

At Huddersfield, May 20th

GALE-FORCE winds, a thunderstorm and driving rain played havoc with times in Longwood's "Cup-Final Day" Meeting. But conditions were unable to prevent two Scots, Graeme Grant and Lachie Stewart, from "stealing the show" from their English rivals. The 880 looked like being a repeat of last year's tussle as Alan Simpson and Walt Wilkinson hit the final straight together, but Grant's storming finish enabled him to get the verdict on the line. In miserable conditions Lachie Stewart equalled the meeting record in winning the three miles.

Fast Sprint In UAU Championships

At Loughborough, May 20th

THE track was slow after rain the previous day but, for the sprints, there was a following wind reaching velocities of 19 m.p.h. This twice helped Bob McStocker to clock 9.6 for 100y, one-tenth faster than the championship record held by announcer Robbie Brightwell. Conversely in the longer races competitors had to battle against strong gusts. Despite this Mel Edwards clipped Ron Hill's 5-year-old three miles record, while in the two miles walk Vaughan Thomas bettered the meeting best set by B. Maddocks. Maddocks, competing with a broken ankle, finished a very game eighth. Dave Travis and Tony Edwards had a battle royal in the javelin, which saw the first three better the record of 210'9" set in 1955 by Peter Cullen.

Record Marks by Herrity and Rule

CONTRARY to widespread press reports Andy Herrity's 13:49.8 three miles, in finishing second to Dick Taylor in the Warwickshire Championships at Nuneaton on May 20th, was a British age record. Many newspapers, commenting on the performance, said it was one second slower than the best by a British 18-year-old, but in fact it was 2.8 seconds inside Tim Overington's mark of last year. Fine as Herrity's record is one can hardly visualise it standing until the season's end, not with the likes of Ian Stewart and Tony Simmons around.

Also on May 20th Gordon Rule raised the best vault by a 16-year-old up to 13'3", an improvement of one inch on his record of 20 days previously. The AAA Junior Championships is going to see a tremendous scrap between Gordon and Mike Bryant.

Running at Brighton on May 20th Andy Todd clocked a very fine 55.6 for the intermediate hurdles. Only John Sherwood among British 18-year-olds has ever run faster. Writes Brighton statistician Alan Buchanan "His time would undoubtedly have been faster had not the wind and lack of strong opposition (2nd man, 59.2) been against him. As it was Andy finished looking very casual and relaxed and I feel that this is potentially his best event."

Having unofficially thrown the youth discus 214 feet in 1965, Nigel Goodman looked to be one of our most promising young juniors last year. Somehow he never quite clicked with the heavier implement however and he finished the season tenth on the junior list with 157 feet. "I found no difficulty in the weight of the discus. The reason I never achieved the distances I hoped was that I never managed to successfully complete a full turn." In fact his year's best was accomplished from a standing position!

Nigel, who is still 6'1" and 190lbs and has qualified as a commercial artist, has been coping much more easily in training lately. The turn comes more easily and he has thrown 170 feet in practice. As determined as ever to succeed in the sport Nigel has resolved "if something prevents me from bettering 180' and 55' (52' in practice) this year I shall take up the javelin". Toying with the latter he has achieved 170 feet.

Only one British girl has ever run the 80 yards hurdles faster than 11.4 (Ann Wilson 11.3 1964) since the event was introduced three years ago and in 1965 and 1966 11.4 was the time required to top the ranking list in the event. The girl who now appears most likely to equal or better Ann's time is Denise Etheridge of Brighton & Hove. In five competitions, up to May 20th, she was undefeated and has clocked 11.4, 11.5 three times and 11.7 (in a crosswind). Certainly Denise will be worth keeping an eye on this summer.

Book Reviews

"British Athletics 1967", compiled by the National Union of Track Statisticians (published by the BAAB); obtainable from the Book Department, "Athletics Weekly", 8s. post free.

Once again the NUTS have produced an admirable record in facts and figures of the previous season's activities. It's nearly all here: deep best performer lists, records, results of the year's international matches plus finals of the European Championships and Commonwealth Games. My only grumble is the continued omission of the AAA & WAAA Championships results, presumably on the grounds that these events do not come within the jurisdiction of the publishers, the British Board. But then, that body was not responsible either for the teams that were sent to Kingston.

Among the most illuminating statistics contained in this illustrated 144-page booklet are event-by-event summaries comparing standards at various levels in each year from 1959 to 1966. The rate of progress in many events is shown to be quite remarkable. Some examples: in the 3 miles 50 men bettered 14:10 in 1959, nine of whom were under 13:40; by 1966 the corresponding figures were 114 and 32. In 1959 there were 56 22ft.-plus long jumpers, 14 over 23ft. and just one over 24ft.; last year there were 107 over 22ft., 29 over 23ft. and eight over 24ft. General editor: Bob Sparks.

The 40 pages of this booklet, compiled and published by NUTS member Simon Pearson, contain just about every statistic relevant to the subject. Intermediate and junior girls' lists are incorporated for the first time. As Mr. Pearson will probably be emigrating to Canada in August it is essential for the survival of this valuable series of booklets that volunteers be found quickly. Anyone interested in helping in such a project should contact Mr. Pearson right away. Incidentally, bargain hunters should note that the 1960, 1961 and 1962 issues are available for 6d. each and those for 1964, 1965 and 1966 for 1s. each—or all six for just 4s. Address for orders as above.

"Race Walking World Statistics 1966", edited by Egon Rasmussen and Palle Lassen; obtainable from Mr. Lassen, Bulowsvej 46, Copenhagen V, Denmark; 50 US cents (60 cents by airmail).

All members of the race walking fraternity (and sorority, for that matter) will find much of interest in this 40-page booklet. The contents include world records, official and unofficial, as at 31.12.66, 1966 world lists at various distances (to a depth of 100 in the 20km and 50km), and world record progression lists. I was surprised to find that Judy Farr's 5000m time of 26:09.8 last year was beaten on no fewer than five occasions by Sweden's Mary Nilsson, clearly the world's greatest female walker with such marks as 24:36 for 5000m (in 1966) and 52:01.6 for 10,000m (in 1958).

"The Four Minute Mile", compiled by Jim Dunaway; obtainable from Mr. Dunaway, Apartment 12N, 239 East 79th Street, New York, N.Y. 10021, USA; $1.50 post free to Europe, $1.00 to USA & Canada, $2.00 elsewhere.

This slim booklet (just 20 pages) lists, in chronological order, every sub-4 minute mile race from Roger Bannister's first through to Jim Ryun's 3:58.6 at the NCAA indoor championships on March 11th of this year. Wherever possible, of the 144 races covered, lap times and the performances of all finishers inside 4:10 have been given. It is interesting to discover that the only runners who have managed to break 60 sec. on each of the four laps are Bob Day, Jurgen May, Kip Keino (twice) and Jim Ryun. The compiler is Eastern Editor of "Track and Field News" and one of "A.W.'s" USA correspondents.

Mourne Walk "runners" criticised: The Youth Hostel Association is considering banning harriers from entering its annual 22-mile Mourne Wall walk. First home in this year's event were Pat Kearns and Joe Thompson, two County Down athletes. Although their time of 5:41.00 hardly suggests they were seriously racing this is not the objection put forward by Mr. P. McAteer, the race organiser: "We are fed up with having to cater for runners. They come into the mountains dressed in scanty clothing and gym shoes and we consider that they are not adequately prepared for mountaineering conditions." Over 200 people had to retire from this year's walk.

Michael Teer recently returned to Northern Ireland after 15 months in Australia. His presence "over the country" this coming season should inspire the talented North Belfast team to some great achievements.

First D'Arcy, practising before the contest, was struck on the head by the bar as he lay in the pit. He required medical attention but, with his head heavily bandaged, he insisted on continuing. Mike Bull's problem was of a different sort as he only cleared his opening height of 14'0" at his third attempt. He went on to fail narrowly at a British record of 15'7". Gay Porter's winning shot mark was a Northern Ireland Native record but it cannot be ratified as the implement was underweight. 16-year-old schoolgirl Adrienne Lynch, a protégée of Sean Kyle, did gain a Native record however, with a fine 58.2 quarter. Hat Trick for Edwards in I.O.W. Marathon

At Ryde, May 20th

A 70-STRONG field started in this year's event but the combination of a tough course plus powerful winds proved too much for 14 of them. Tough headwinds over the early stages put the runners minutes behind the ordinary schedule but at 10 miles (61.15) Alan Phillips, Bill Pluck and John Edwards had built up a ten-second lead. By 12 miles Pluck had been dropped and at 15 third place, 32 seconds behind the leaders, had been taken by Dick Wilds of Southampton (1:30.47).

Approaching Brading Wilds fell back and was passed by Geoff Winchester, a past winner, and Ken Darlow. Up in front Phillips appeared to be having a bit of leg trouble and Edwards broke away to win the race for the third consecutive year and for the fourth time in 5 years.

TWENTY YEARS AN ATHLETE

—And She's Not Finished Yet!

A Profile of Galina Bystrova
by Vladimir Tennyov

TEN years have passed since Galina Bystrova, of Gorky, set a world pentathlon record of 4846 points. She continues to perform to this very day, which would be nothing astounding were there not behind her almost 10 years of training in athletics when she set this record. Thus, 20 years of active participation in athletics!

Galina Bystrova came to big-time sport in the years when athletics fans still admired the powerful and at the same time graceful movements of the world's No. 1 woman discus thrower Nina Dumbadze, when Yuriy Stepanov and Vladimir Sitkin launched an offensive against the high jump record belonging to the Americans, and Nina Otkalenko was beating all her rivals. It is a rare sportsman who can boast of such "a service record" as Galina. She took part in the Melbourne, Rome and Tokyo Olympics. Seven times she mounted the highest rung of the honour pedestal at national championships. Three times she managed to gain the title of European champion. In addition to two world records in the pentathlon, Galina held the world record in the hurdles. She has performed in the stadia of America and England, Australia and China, East and West Germany, Italy and Yugoslavia, Poland and Bulgaria, Hungary and Czechoslovakia, Sweden, Finland and Japan.

Were I to be asked what amazes me most about this sportswoman, I would say: hard work. That's what enabled her to rise so high. She was not distinguished for a sparkling, brilliant talent, such as was the case of Nina Dumbadze, Valeriy Brumel and Igor Ter-Ovanesyan. She has achieved a lot at the price of great effort. Moreover, whereas they had to achieve perfection in one single event, Galina had five of them. What titanic persistence she had to possess to keep herself in the course of 20 years at such a level of strength, agility and stamina.

Central Press

Sports Club trained on the banks of the Volga near old fortress walls. The slim 15-year-old girl Galina Dolzhenkova used to come here every day. At first she kept apart from other people, reluctantly answering questions but ardently carrying out everything she was told by her trainer Vasiliy Bystrov. It seemed that nothing could stop her from attending the training sessions daily. The fact that she ran the 100 metres in only 14.6 sec. and cleared the bar at a mere $3'7\frac{1}{4}''/1.10$ during the entrance exams at the physical culture school did not seem to worry her.

Day after day there were exercises, medicine ball work and starts. Then the hurdles, insidious and cruel, appeared. She either stumbled against them or could not reach over them. Her legs were covered with welts and bruises. At that time she weighed only 115lb. though standing $5'5\frac{1}{2}''$ in her stockinged feet, and she was poorly co-ordinated. But she had an inexhaustible charge of nervous energy. A year later Galina ran the 30m hurdles in 5.4 and high jumped $4'3\frac{3}{4}''/1.30$ at the winter competitions in Gorky. The following summer she took part in the 80m hurdles. At first she covered the distance in 13.2 and then in 12.6. But then at the end of the season she had her first serious injury. She could neither run nor jump. All that remained for her at the time were the throwing events. And that is where the proverb "every cloud has a silver lining" justified itself. She improved her shot-put figures from 6 metres (19'84") to 35'2"/10.72!

Now it was decided: the pentathlon was her calling. A year later she scored a victory at the national junior championship; then came her first performance at the 1953 national senior championship—ninth place. The following year she managed to come up to fourth place but it became clear that she could not count on a medal while running the 100m in only 12.8.

First national title

After that four training sessions a week were devoted by Galina to the sprints. But her speed waned at the end of 100 metres. The distance of the run had to be increased and ways and means sought for improving speed staying power. After several months of such labour she ran 100m in 12.2 in February 1955. In the hurdles she cut the number of strides to the first barrier from eight to seven with difficulty. But for that a result of 11.1 in the 80m hurdles in Moscow brought her the sports master's title, and in the autumn she captured her first gold medal as the country's hurdles champion. In 1956 she was awarded her second gold medal for the long jump.

That was Galina's path to the world record in the pentathlon. This was no easy road. How were so many capricious and at times contradictory events to be reconciled? On beginning to give preference to one, something else did not work. It turned out that it was the simplest of all to reconcile running with the jumps. Somewhat aside, not hampering the other events, stood the shot put. But then the hurdles and the high jump did not want to have anything to do with each other. After the hurdles the height would not come easily while after the high jump Galina would lose her rhythm and cleared the hurdles with difficulty. So she had to make sacrifices in the high jump, give up all intentions of mastering the straddle, and train at it as rarely as possible. By the way, even with a poor semi-scissors she cleared 5'3"/1.60.

Injuries are the real plague for sportsmen. They are the touchstone for testing the firmness of one's skill and stability of will power. Just before the 1958 European Championships Galina crashed hard against a hurdle. Her knee swelled and she could not take a single step. She was taken along to Stockholm but without any hope for success. Several days before the start, however, she began to run lightly. She made a pad which she tied tightly to her leg. But it was painful to run, and although she pleaded with the team managers to permit her to perform, in the bottom of her heart she had no confidence in her success. Yet she went on to win both the hurdles (10.9) and pentathlon (4733).

Meanwhile, in 1950 Galina had married her coach, Vasily Bystrov. At first everything went fine, but then there were times when she felt hurt. "You did not pay any attention to me today at training, being all the time with the other girls, while I remained alone." Or: "You don't teach this thing right. Galina Zybina explained to me this element differently, and after all she knows the shot put better than you." Fortunately, these petty misunderstandings did not grow over into a conflict or mistrust, but this required of Vasily Bystrov great tact and delicacy.

All these years studies and family life proceeded side by side with sport. After the technical school Galina enrolled in a teachers' training college. She studied fervently and finished with honours. In 1953 a son, Seryozha, was born to her.

However, big-time sport and family interests sometimes came into conflict. From time to time Galina had to ponder over the question: isn't it high time to stop active sport? Her first doubts came in 1960 when Irina Press with her phenomenal talent appeared on the horizon. No, this wasn't envy towards a stronger sportswoman but rather a sense of futility in training and efforts at contests: "After all, I shall lose anyway." The second time she thought of it seriously was before the Tokyo Olympics. The preparations for it required tremendous effort. Not only did she have to keep up her former level but she had to progress. Is it possible when you are already 30? It turned out that it was. In the struggle against Irina Press and Mary Rand she won the bronze medal ahead of Mary Peters with a score of 4956.

And now there is Mexico ahead. The year 1966 was almost wholly spent on healing an injury. It might seem that now it is time to think about resting up. But why not make one more attempt? And in the past winter Galina Bystrova began to take part again in contests, measuring herself up for the final test ahead.

Galina Bystrova was born at Azerbaidzansk in the Nachichevan Autonomous Republic on February 8th, 1934. She stands 5'7", weighs 142lb., and has the following best marks: 25.0 200m, 10.6 80mH, 5'4½"/1.64 HJ, 20'3¼"/6.19 LJ, 47'5½"/14.47 SP and 4995 pentathlon. Any further comments?

There is a tendency to regard greater and greater quantities of training as the only way to improve performance but I think a sense of proportion is necessary. One should aim to improve the quality of one's training before extending it. I have been struck by the comments of athletes when the training programmes of athletes like Cawley, Mottley and Keino have been published. Opinion seems to be that these athletes have some interest in kidding the rest of the world and the general feeling is that their programmes as described are much too light to be true. The lesson that quality must be preserved is generally ignored.

Gerry North Takes Hampstead "10"

At Friern Barnet, May 20th

AT the end of the first of the three laps a bunch of four headed the field of 122 starters. This consisted of Jim Wright, Gerry North, Peter Yates and Dai Davies who went through in 16.45 with Ian MacIntosh and F. Whitley ten seconds adrift. Just one lap later North was on his own (32.47), 17 seconds ahead of Yates and Davies with Wright a further six seconds back. MacIntosh still occupied fifth place but Tony Reavley had moved up from 11th to 6th.

Quite a number dropped out during the race and only 100 runners started the third circuit during which North further consolidated his lead and Yates broke away from Davies.

Jackson Beats Hill In Fast Three Miles

At Blackburn, May 17th

THE Blackburn Carnival Meeting, which annually produces a crop of good performances, again saw a fine three miles in which every man broke 14 minutes. The field went through the mile in 4:29.5 then, on the sixth lap, John Jackson broke away and, although Ron Hill was closing at the end, never looked like being beaten. In third place was the tremendously improved Jim Freeman who will be a man to watch out for this season.

The Greatest Ever 440 Duel

TOMMIE SMITH emerged victorious from a highly publicised 440y duel with San Jose State team-mate and friend Lee Evans with the world record both felt certain would come as the prize to the winner. The race, at San Jose on May 20th, was a natural as both were undefeated since 1964, generally considered the best at the distance but had never been matched before. The event drew 5000 spectators, many of them stacked five and six deep standing along the backstretch, others perched on rooftops and more clinging to telegraph poles. The seating capacity of the stadium is only 1000.

Smith claimed his 8th and 9th world records as he cut four-tenths from the 400m and one-tenth from the 440y global standards with clockings of 44.5 and 44.8. Evans was caught in 45.3 for the fastest non-winning quarter on record.

The pace was fast from the outset. Tommie is a splendid front runner but an even greater sprinter from behind—and Lee's best chance was to set a blistering early pace with the hope of outdistancing history's most powerful stretch finisher. Lee held a tenth advantage as he shot past 110y in 10.9 and increased that to two-tenths at the furlong as Tommie's 21.7 matched Adolph Plummer's split during his record 44.9. With Lee one lane outside Tommie the margin looked greater than it actually was but it was quickly diminished as Smith shifted into his middle "Tommie-jet" gear around the final curve. He pulled even with the now straining Evans by 300y and led by three-tenths at 330y in 33.5. Down the sun-drenched (68°F) and reasonably calm (2.5 mph aiding breeze) home straight Lee rallied briefly but the race was Tommie's as he glided home with his special gift that enables him to maintain speed longer than any sprinter before him.

Evans was obviously dejected after the contest but coach Bud Winter was confident he would bounce back quickly. Evans is already far ahead of Smith in development at the same stage and only the previous weekend had clocked 44.2 (not 44.6 as first reported) for a 440y relay leg. Winter knew Smith was ready after a secret time-trial three days before the race when he ran 352y in 34.5—which by adding 10 seconds is a good guide for indicating 440 potential. Unfortunately for Evans it's almost impossible to beat Smith. As Winter says: "You can't let him run ahead of you and you can't let him run behind you. Either way, he's great, but he's greatest when he's catching up to people". According to Winter, this is only the beginning for Tommie. Asked how fast Smith can run the quarter, he replied: "In the low 43s or high 42s". Next target for Smith, whose favourite distance is the 220 . . . world records at 100y and 100m.

CORRECTIONS

In the Bucks Championships N. Griffin put the shot 42'11 1/4" and not as printed.

Fourth and fifth places in the Surrey Women's javelin should have read: 4, J. Fleming (Mit) 121'2"; 5, S. Warn (Mit) 114'0".

A couple of misprints appeared in the first paragraph of "Spotlight on Youth". Mike Ellis in fact threw the 16lb hammer 158'6" in 1954 and the sentence following this should have read: "As he is 17 until December this probably won't be Paul's last word on this particular record."

By L. W. WOODCOCK

Leicester Open "20", May 27th. The Reverend R. A FEAST OF GREAT RUNNING

WITHOUT wishing this to sound too much like a cigarette ad, the British Games at the White City—especially the second day—proved a richly satisfying experience. The performances of Chris Carter, John Boulter, Alan Simpson, Dick Taylor, Bruce Tulloh, Ian McCafferty, John Jackson, Alan Pascoe and Dick Perkins, to name just a few, were vastly encouraging; which is more than can be said of the size of the crowd . . . 3000 on Saturday 12,000 on Monday. The meeting was sponsored by the News of the World.

First Day, May 27th

Dick Taylor moved appreciably closer to true athletic greatness in winning the inter-counties 3 miles title in 13:11.8, the third fastest ever by a British runner. It was not so much the time—after all he would have been left 150 yards behind Ron Clarke's world record 12:50.4—but the manner of the performance that was so impressive. He was quite magnificent as, utterly alone after the first mile, he fought a losing battle against the wind and his own fatigue in a bid to become the first Briton to crack 13 minutes for the distance.

As arranged beforehand, Nick Barton acted as pacemaker for the first mile and apart from an over enthusiastic opening lap (61.8) he performed his task admirably. The objective was 4:20, and in fact Barton helped Taylor to the mile mark in 4:20.2. From then on the 22-year-old English cross-country champion was on his own. By 2 miles, reached in 8:46.4 (the fastest British time of the season!), he was 60y ahead of John Hillen and Tim Briault but although he doubled his lead during the final mile the UK record of 13:08.6 held by Mike Wiggs and Allan Rushmer eluded him. His consolation was in clipping a fifth of a second from Bruce Tulloh's AAA National (and former European) record of 1961 and setting a personal best and the world's fastest this year. His lap times: 61.8, 67.8, 66.2, 64.4, 65.2, 67.0, 66.6, 67.4, 67.6, 67.8, 68.0, 62.0. Briault finished an isolated runner-up in 13:29.0, his second best time, while Hillen recorded a personal best of 13:36.0 in third place after having passed the halfway mark in around 6:38.

Next to Taylor, the most exciting performance came from 19-year-old javelin thrower Dick Perkins. This 5'11", 154lb protégé of former UK record holder Peter Cullen came to the White City with a best of 229'3"/69.88 (achieved, significantly, in his first international last year) and left, not only as champion, but the sixth ranking British javelin thrower of all-time. He reached 234'6" in the qualifying round, and in the final attained 232'2", 245'3"/74.75, 225'11", 237'5", 212'6", foul. I was particularly struck by his fast, fluent run-up. It is only four years since Perkins first handled a javelin and his progress has been dazzling: 162'10"/49.63 with the 600gm implement in 1963, 198'5"/60.48 with the 700gm model in 1964, 211'6"/64.47 and the English Schools title in 1965, 229'3"/69.88, the AAA junior title and a full British vest last season.

Two of Britain's Olympic heroes met with mixed fortunes. Lynn Davies did not long jump owing to an injury sustained earlier in the week but it did not noticeably affect his sprinting prowess. Away to a gem of a start he was never in any danger of being caught and thus clinched his fourth consecutive 100y title. The time of 9.9 into the teeth of a 4.1m/sec wind could have been worth 9.6 in more favourable conditions. Good sprinting, too, by the much improved Tony Tymms and also by young Ralph Banthorpe, who did well to place third after a poor start. John Cooper, on the other hand, was a sad sight to behold in the closing stages of the 440y hurdles—that sector of the race in which he used to reign supreme. He has a long way to go to recapture his pre-injury form but, knowing his tenacity, I'll be surprised if he doesn't make it back to the top by late season. Robin Woodland won the race in 53.0 after a restrained beginning but was hard pushed by versatile Roy Fox, whose 53.2 was a second faster than his best prior to this meeting. "Lucky Jim" Dixon must have set a record of some sort when he clocked a lifetime best of 54.2 in his heat . . . he is 35 years of age.

Other athletes who performed better than ever before included Martin Higdon, pole vault winner at 14'7"/4.44 (only Trevor Burton among Englishmen has gone higher), and that prolific letter writer Barry Williams (3rd in hammer with 187'6"/57.15). Howard Payne won this event for the seventh year running, while in 4th place Chris Melliush somewhat remarkably landed all six of his throws between 175'10" and 177'6", five of them within just ten inches. The long jump could hardly have been closer, with AAA indoor champion Peter Templeton defeating fellow Welshman Gwyn Williams by a quarter of an inch after Peter Reed had led until the start of the 4th round. Alan Lerwill, the favourite, fouled four times.

There was a good race in the international 880y between old rivals John Boulter and Noel Carroll. The usual pattern of these encounters was reversed for Boulter was beaten in and last at the bell and it was he who gave chase after the Irishman throughout the second lap. Boulter caught his man in the finishing straight and held on grimly to win narrowly in 1:50.2. His second lap must have been 53 sec. or better. Poland's Witold Baran added to what must be by now a prodigious collection of White City prizes with a runaway mile win in 4:02.0, his final half taking a mere 1:56.7. Bruce Tulloh, in 6th place, returned his fastest time since the 1962 Commonwealth Games. Finally, Paul Nash (South Africa) quite out-classed Poland's Jan Werner (10.3, 20.9, 45.7 metric performer) in a 21.1 furlong with the headwind along the straight measured at 2.6m/sec. Last summer Nash won the AAA title, aided by a 1m/sec breeze, in 21.2—and that sums up the improvement he has made in the past year. Even Tommie Smith and Jim Hines might find themselves pushed.

Second Day, May 29th

AN outstanding day's athletics, particularly in the middle and long distance running department. Ian McCafferty led the parade with a UK record in the 2 miles (and, just as praiseworthy, victory over Lajos Mecser); John Jackson handed Maurice Herriott his first defeat by a British steeplechaser since 1960, and in the world's fastest time this year; Bruce Tulloh held off Henk Altmann at the end of a fast and absorbing 6 miles; Chris Carter led all the way in the 880y (laps of 54.7 and 53.8) notable also for the blanket finish for the next four places; and Alan Simpson proved he is still Britain's finest miler by pouring on a 1:55 second 880y. Add to that a brilliant 46.4 quarter by Poland's Jan Werner and an extremely tight high hurdles final won by Alan Pascoe in a personal best of 14.3 and one can see why the 12,000 customers streamed home in a happy mood.

Instead of blazing away in front, McCafferty (wearing a TVH vest) held himself back during the slow early laps. A record of any sort seemed out of the question after times of 65.0 at 440 (Peter Whewell), 2:11.2 at 880 (Istvan Joni), 3:16.8 at three-quarters (Geoff North) and 4:21.8 at the mile (Mecser). From that point onwards, the pace grew steadily hotter. McCafferty and Mecser passed 1½ miles level in 5:26.2 (64.4 lap) and with half a mile to go the Scot was 3y up on the Hungarian in 6:29.8 (63.6 lap). Lech Boguszewicz was another four yards back, then a gap of ten yards to Derek Graham, followed by Tom O'Riordan and Lachie Stewart. McCafferty tried hard to shake off the world's fastest 3000m performer of last year with a 63.4 (7:33.2 at the bell) but without success. The pressure was really on throughout the last lap but McCafferty never flinched and, just as Mecser was launching his final attempt to get on terms, so the Motherwell runner found the energy for a splendid sprint to the tape. He won by seven yards in 8:33.4, 0.4 inside Derek Graham's UK record, having covered the final mile in 4:11.5.

34 The 6 miles also got away to a relatively leisurely start, Tulloh leading past the mile in 4:37. Portsmouth clubmate Tim Johnston, the world's fastest this year at 27:36.8, undertook most of the pacemaking in the second mile and passed 2M in 9:13.2. The position at 3M was Johnston 13:51.6, Tulloh 13:51.8, Rushmer, Altmann and Hogan 13:52.0, Turner 13:53.8, Bob Holt 13:54.2, Alder and Hammond 13:54.8, McGrow 14:00, Moxsom 14:06.8, Wright and Blinstone 14:07, Craven 14:08. Alder and Hammond were dropped soon after, leaving seven in the tightly knit leading bunch. The lead changed frequently, with Altmann in front at 4M (18:34.6) and 5M (23:20.0). A 66 on the 21st lap carried Tulloh and Johnston 15y clear of the South African, and a 65.6 on the next circuit gave Tulloh a 25y advantage over Johnston and Altmann. Tulloh pedalled away furiously on the penultimate lap (66.8) and held his margin over Altmann, who in turn was 25y ahead of Johnston at the bell. The last lap was a thriller as Altmann gradually crept up but, as in the European 5000m of 1962, Tulloh's initial advantage proved too great to overcome and he ran home the winner by nearly ten yards in 27:42.8. Altmann sliced nearly three-quarters of a minute from his best, while the next five were also inside 28 minutes (including a personal best by Bob Holt). Tulloh's last mile . . . 4:22.8! Clearly Bruce is going out in this, his final season, in a well deserved blaze of glory.

There was another tremendously fast finish in the mile, which was run in a hailstorm (otherwise the weather had not been at all bad). The first two laps were covered in a dawdling 63.4 and 64.2 before John Rix went ahead on the third. Alan Simpson raced to the front with a good 500y to go, zipped past the bell in 3:05.9 (58.3 lap) and fought off John Whetton's attentions throughout the 56.9 finale. Rix equalled his best of 4:05.4 but lost 3rd to Chris Stewart, who tied his fastest of 4:05.1.

The steeplechase marked the end of an era, for John Jackson inflicted on Maurice Herriott his first defeat in domestic competition since 1960 and thus the seemingly eternal Herriott-Pomfret international partnership has been dissolved. And what a magnificent performance it was too. Following an excruciatingly fast start by Pomfret (62.6 first lap!) it was obvious that good times all round would be the order of the day but the race looked to be Herriott's when he surged past Jackson with about 300y left. The difference was that Jackson went with him, and passed him at the water jump (which Herriott, for once, took badly). Sprinting the final straight in glorious style, Jackson came home in the world's fastest time of the year. Only Herriott among Britons has run faster.

Middlesex won the inter-county title by a bare half-point from Surrey. Last year the two counties dead-heated.
