He is reported to have improved to 50.4 last week-end (to be confirmed). Also in the USA, Stuart Storey clocked 14.3 for 5th place (same times as winner!) at Fort Campbell on May 18th.

STUPEFYING SILVESTER

Jay Silvester, whose world record discus throw of 218'4"/66.55 at Modesto on May 25th was reported last week, commented: "It's about time the record came back home. The Europeans have held it ever since I had it. And this one was much more rewarding to me. You don't know how great it is to once lose it, and then get it back. It makes you feel young again," said the 30-year-old insurance salesman. He described the wind conditions as ideal (16 men threw over 180ft.) and revealed that in Utah three weeks earlier he

Fifteen Olympic Qualifiers at British Games

Davies Pushes Carter To Record Half

AN eventful British Games and Inter-County Championships, watched by 2,500 at Crystal Palace on Sunday and 10,000 at White City on Monday, yielded one European record, five European junior bests and no fewer than 15 Olympic qualifying performances by British athletes. Although these are still early days as far as Olympic selection is concerned the pace being set by many of our top athletes is indeed a hot one.

The inter-county 880, even without John Boulter, proved the highspot of the meeting. Chris Carter and Mike Varah had agreed in advance that one or other of them would assure a fast pace, and in fact it was Varah who took upon himself the task of running the rest of the field into the ground. He covered the first 220 in 26.0, and at the bell his time was a sparkling 52.2, with Carter, John Davies, Dave Cropper and Len Walters close behind. Varah tried all he knew during the third furlong but, although still ahead at 660 in 1:19.6, he found Carter was still at his shoulder, with Davies also well in contention. Rounding the last turn Carter took over while Davies slipped into second place as the gallant Varah began to fade.

By MELVYN WATMAN

Carter, clearly back to his best 1966 form, kept his stride going well along the finishing straight, edging out into the third lane in search of firmer footing (the track was soft after heavy rain). Davies, head down as he dug into reserves never previously brought into play, chased Carter every inch of the way and was little more than a yard down at the tape. It was a wonderful performance by this 19-year-old, who had already run John Boulter to a virtual dead-heat this season, and his time was nothing less than sensational . . . 1:47.4. No other European teenager has run anything like that fast for 800 metres let alone 880 yards, not that he need bother about junior records any longer—senior records and a place in the Olympic team are within his grasp now. Young he may be, but already he runs with the assurance and judgment of a mature competitor. It was Carter, incidentally, who was his inspiration. "I watched him on television, running in the European 800 metres, and I thought then I would like to be like him; a big 'muscle' fellow with the guts to go ahead".

Carter, who finds it easier to train now he is off the "beat" and working as a Sussex Police schools liaison officer, was undoubtedly elated. His time of 1:47.2, though still a little slower than his best 800m when converted, shaved a tenth off the European record shared by Franz-Josef Kemper and Boulter and is the fastest in the world this season (Davies' is second best). He expressed surprise at running quite this fast so early in the season and feels he should be able to run at least another half-second faster. Dave Cropper, who always seems to show up well in the big races, passed Varah for third and clocked a personal best of 1:48.0, also inside the Olympic qualifying standard. Mal Rothwell and David Ross, who shared a time of 1:49.4, also ran faster than ever before in this electrifying race.

The greatest proliferation of Olympic qualifiers came, predictably, in the 6 miles—a round half dozen. Run throughout in heavy rain, the race was led for most of the first four miles by Bill Adcocks and Bob Holt. The mile splits were 4:38.2, 9:15.6 (4:37.4), 13:56.8 (4:41.2) and 18:38.2 (4:41.4). At that stage less than 20 yards covered the first nine runners but on the 17th lap Jim Alder hotted up the proceedings with a 67.4. This took him into a ten-yard lead over Roy Fowler but it was the Commonwealth marathon champion's next lap of 65.2 that settled the issue. His lead widened to an unchallengeable 50 yards, with Fowler, Mike Tagg (in his first "6" as a senior), Holt and Adcocks next in line. Alder maintained a killing pace to reach 5 miles in 23:07.0 (4:28.8 for that mile!) and though weakening at the end he still had 40 yards to spare as he snapped the tape in 27:41.2. Tagg, only 21 and relentlessly moving towards greatness, was an equally brilliant runner-up in 27:47.8 and thus joined his sister as an Olympic qualifier. Bob Holt was third (same position as brother Dave in the "20") in a personal best of 27:50.6, while Adcocks, now Europe's fastest marathoner, chopped over $\frac{1}{4}$ minute from his previous best.

Wilkinson Under "4" Again

There was a good race for the mile title, with Dick Taylor the pace-setter in 60.9, 2:01.7 and 3:04.2. Roy Young was the first to break but he was overhauled before the last bend by John Whetton, Walter Wilkinson (who had clocked 3:59.2 the previous Tuesday) and Maurice Benn. Wilkinson, who has his sights on Alan Simpson's UK record of 3:55.7 this season, pulled away along the straight to record 3:59.4 (55.2 last lap), while Benn—previous best of 4:04.8—achieved national prominence for the first time by nipping Whetton in 3:59.9, though Whetton at least had the consolation of equalling the Olympic standard of four minutes. Poor Ray Roseman once again failed narrowly in his quest for a four-minute mile. Any number of personal bests were set during the competition and special mention should be made of Norman Morrison (19), whose 4:04.6 in the heats failed to qualify.

John Jackson missed the world's best time this season by just a fifth in retaining his steeplechase title ahead of Maurice Herriott in 8:38.0.

Looking more than ever the part of a world-beater, Jackson moved ahead after four laps, led by 15 yards at the bell and widened his advantage to 30 yards with a 63.8 last lap. Tony Ashton, finishing fast, almost pipped Ernie Pomfret for third, while four of the next five men to break 9 minutes set personal bests. Remembering that Gareth Bryan-Jones clocked 8:40.6 at Grange-mouth the previous day, it is pleasing to see such excellent depth.

The other Olympic qualifying mark came from Peter Reed in the long jump, his leap of 25'0" falling a mere quarter-inch short of his recent personal best. Among other field event highlights was a protracted high jumping duel in the rain by Chris Pardee and Mike Campbell, personal bests in both shot and discus by Jeff Teale, a tense hammer duel between Howard Payne (who settled the argument with a seasonal best of 201'11" in the 5th round) and Barry Williams (who added three inches to his personal record) and a surprise defeat of Dave Travis, who came through strongly in the last three rounds, by Barry Sanderson.

Back again to the track events. The three miles lacked the class usually associated with this race but it was exciting enough. John Hillen led from John Thresher, Hertfordshire-born New Zealander Barry Jones, and Tim Briault past 2 miles in Ken Riley setting a personal best mile time of 4:05.1 at Oxford. He reached the inter-county final.

B. G. Potter

8:58.8 and was still in front with two laps to go, but he faded right out in the long drive for home. It was Alan Blinston (previous best of 13:45) who made the break and, covering the final half in 2:07, he beat his better known Southern rivals Thresher and Briault by a few yards in 13:27.0. John Bednarski (19) set a commendable European junior best of 13:34.4 in 5th place.

Alan Pascoe got the better of Mike Parker in an interesting high hurdles final after Graham Gower had shown up prominently early on. John Cooper improved his season's best in the quarter hurdles (51.5), six yards up on Peter Warden. Steve Black set an AAA under-19 record of 53.3 in his heat and was only a tenth slower in the final.

With Ron Jones pulled out for two false starts (for the first time in his long career) in the heats—tough luck for him as he was unable to adjust properly to the special blocks at Crystal Palace—Barrie Kelly had the 100 final all sewn up ahead of Joe Speake. Chris Cheetham, only 17, excelled in taking third place. Dick Steane, unlucky apparently to miss an Olympic qualifying time in his heat, was an equally clear winner of the 220 from Ralph Banthorpe, with Howard Davies—sharpening up nicely for the quarter, a good third. In the absence of many of the top men, it was another Welshman, Gwynne Griffiths, who came through late to take the quarter, his 47.9 being a personal best. This was a tenth faster than Martin Winbolt Lewis in the international event, in which he was outclassed by the Poles, Jan Balachowski and Andrzej Badenski.

The other two invitation events were also won by visitors. In the half, Colin Campbell ran admirably to record a personal best of 1:49.6 but there was a certain inevitability that Manfred Matuschewski (6th at the bell) would pass him late and decisively. East Germany supplied the 2 miles winner also in the person of Bernd Diessner, the European 5000m bronze medallist—a man who still holds the world junior best for 1000m. Derek Graham showed ahead on the third lap and led past the mile in 4:18.6, followed by Gyorgy Kiss, Ian McCafferty, Ian Stewart, Diessner, Alan Joslyn and Lajos Mecser. McCafferty jumped into the lead towards the end of the fifth lap but did not really step up the pace until the seventh, which he covered in 62.8. At the bell, Mecser and Diessner were still in close proximity and though McCafferty (looking back much too often) managed to dispose of the Hungarian, he had no answer to Diessner's kick along the finishing straight. Diessner, covering the 240y from the 3000m mark in 30.6 and completing the final mile in 4:13, clocked 8:31.6, while McCafferty (8:00.6 at 3000m) set a Scottish record of 8:32.0. Absolutely magnificent in 5th place was Ian Stewart (19), whose times of 8:02.4 at 3000m (unofficial) and 8:35.6 are European junior bests.

Yes, this News of the World sponsored meeting was a memorable affair in terms of competition and performance, but a drastic improvement will have to be made in the presentation and announcing for the next big occasion at the White City.

Spotlight on Youth

FOUR AGE RECORDS

Lack of space this week severely restricts the length of this column but some performances cannot be by-passed without note.

Four British Age Records have tumbled of late. The first went to John Elias, of Cardiff College of Education, on May 4th when he long-jumped 24'6". This is the best ever by a 19-year-old, six inches in advance of the previous best set by Lynn Davies in 1962 and 9 inches further than the 5'10", 145lb Elias has managed before.

At Hornchurch on May 11th Jenny Bloss gave a hint of what she might achieve this summer. Last year, at 16, she put the shot further than any Teenager before her with 45'9". Now 17, she upped this to 46'0½", a new Teenage mark. Fine a performance as this was, more startling still was her discus throw of 144'2". In the past Jenny's discus has lagged behind somewhat and last year she had a best of only 122'8"—a remarkable improvement. Her new mark ups one of the oldest records in the book, Suzanne Farmer's 142'0" set in 1952 and equalled by Gail Smith (whom Jenny defeated in this competition ironically enough) in 1963.

The latest record to fall was bettered by the least well known of the trio. On May 25th, at the Robert Pattinson School, Lincoln, 15-year-old Neil Greenberry leapt 22'7", ½" in advance of Ron Powell's 1955 UK best. Greenberry (3.8.1952) had three jumps, starting off with a 22'3" NJ, then 20'5½" and finally 22'7". In addition, during his warm-up he leapt (reportedly valid) 23'1" and 23'7". During the winter Neil managed 21'0½" at Cosford and placed second at the LAC Schools Meeting with 20'11½".

Some other performances worthy of note include Mick Orton's third place in the Midland "6". The 19-year-old Tipton Harrier was just 1.2 seconds short of Colin Moxsom's 29:03.8 age best. In the Essex Championships on May 25th Dave Williams (also 19) ran 29:08.4 for the distance, a fantastic pointer towards his natural ability considering how short of fitness (because of injury) he is at present. Not surprisingly after the run Dave said: "Never again. It was terrible. So boring, we just seemed to go round and round and round". Mick Orton has now turned 20 but with Stewart, Simmons, Williams, Faircloth, Bednarski, Holden, etc., around Moxsom's age best must be doomed.

Another good run on May 25th came from Mitcham's Les Morrish who celebrated his 20th birthday by covering 10 miles in 47.08. Les openly admits it was actually 9m 1020y but, nonetheless, a fine performance on the road.

In the Barnet Boys Road Race Ian Whittle's time was actually 9 35 and not as printed.

Introducing Italy's "Mr. Walking"

TO have been Olympic and European champion, a world class performer from 2 miles to 100 km over a span of 15 years, an international judge and a national team manager, certainly amply highlights the dedication and work that Giuseppe Dordoni has put into race walking. However, Dordoni's hardest task may yet be ahead of him as he, now Italian national coach, endeavours to mould his countrymen so that they will be able to emulate the lofty standards set by himself and his former rival—and now number one pupil—Abdon Pamich.

I first saw "Pino", then 24, competing in our AAA 2 miles where he finished 4th behind Lasse Hindmar (Sweden) and Harry Churcher, recording 14:20 and, by a unanimous decision, winning the style prize. Next year saw him at the London Olympics, where though showing the field up style-wise he was unable to match their pace. He finished last but one, only compatriot Corsaro (now Dordoni's assistant coach) following him home. The 1948 Games were the first of four successive Olympics that the tall Italian from Piacenza competed in, as well as three European Championships in the fifties.

"Pino's" big years were 1950 and 1952 when he captured the European and Olympic titles at 50 km, both after dour struggles with his long standing rivals John Ljunggren (Sweden) and Josef Dolezal (Czechoslovakia). In later major internationals, Dordoni invariably opted for the 20 km, which to the observer always appeared more suitable for him, but on occasion he was let down by his Latin temperament when involved in a close battle for supremacy.

The 1960 Olympics in Rome saw Dordoni, now 33, return to his first love—distance walking (he had won the famous Milan 100 km in 1949)—and had a fine race to finish a fast closing 7th in the 50 km. In this event, "Pino" and his two colleagues, Pamich and De Gaetano, banked on the opposition wilting in the hot, humid conditions during the later stages and all three looked very impressive moving through the field near the end. However, one or two did overcome the conditions, notably our Don Thompson and Dordoni's old foe, John Ljunggren.

It is generally accepted that the two finest stylists seen in top class race walking have been Dordoni and Stan Vickers. These two gave the White City crowd one of the most exciting heel and toe contests witnessed in the stadium when they met there in 1957 over 5 miles. Vickers, the reigning European 20 km champion, and his balding opponent exchanged the lead on numerous occasions on a track left muddy by heavy rain. With both giving an exhibition of speed and stylish progress as has seldom been seen before or since, the issue was decided when "Pino" burst away with 250 yards to go to win by a dozen yards.

In later years Dordoni has continued to travel around the world by establishing himself as Italy's team manager and has guided and advised Abdon Pamich to his many victories by his thorough knowledge of the participants and rules involved in international competition.

With Pamich now approaching the end of his illustrious career, Italy looks towards Dordoni to keep the country high in the world's walking rankings by bringing young talent to the fore. "Pino", regarded in walking circles as Coppi in cycling, has taken full advantage of the facilities available to him by taking select groups to the Dolomites and to holiday resorts on the coast for intensive periods of training, lasting 10 to 14 days. Already, at 50 km, the young soldier Visini appears ready to assume Pamich's mantle, while at the shorter distance De Vito, on his day, is a worthy opponent. There are many others under his personal supervision who are showing good performances at home and abroad.

And so, if anybody does not recognise the fit-looking elder companion accompanying Pamich in his pre-race training in the Mexico City Olympic Village rest assured it will be the old "campionissimo" himself, Giuseppe Dordoni.

Colin Young

"Pino" Dordoni's star pupil, Abdon Pamich, literally snaps the tape to win the 1964 Olympic 50 kilometres.

Athletics for Everyone—

By Tom McNab

IF a film attracts only small audiences, it is pointless to blame the public for failing to attend. Rather one must look towards the quality of the film and the methods which have been used to give it publicity. If the film is mediocre, then no amount of publicity will make any significant difference. If, however, it is good, then a well-prepared publicity campaign can result in increased audiences.

Athletics and films are not directly analogous, but there are obvious points of comparison. A major one is that both have to be 'sold' to a public. Where the analogy ends is that the film itself cannot be changed by publicity whilst athletics can suffer actual changes, depending on methods of presentation.

There are two presentation-methods which have done much to hinder the progress of athletics at its lowest level i.e. at class level in schools. These are:—

(1) The selection of a gifted few who show early ability. This does not really merit the name of a 'method' since it is essentially a process of selection and rejection, but it might be called the 'elite method'.

(2) The 'technical method'. Here athletics is treated as a series of techniques to be acquired such as the straddle, the hitch-kick or the 'O'Brien' techniques. These techniques are looked upon as ends in themselves, rather than as means to an end.

The 'elite method', though it can produce good (if shallow) short-term results is educationally indefensible since it assumes that there is no value in a sport unless the performer reaches a high standard. It also uses the sport as a means of producing representative teams rather than as a source of pleasure for and a means of educating the individual child.

The 'technical method', though more humane, ignores the nature of athletics. The sport is basically a series of simple, objective tests with techniques merely a means of improving test-performances. Teaching of this type tends to involve vast amounts of time being spent on technical improvements but minimal amounts on actual measurement with tape and stop-watch. Few children respond to this approach, since they have little interest in acquiring techniques which have no apparent purpose. Shorn of their links with competition, athletics techniques are empty and meaningless.

My view that athletics is essentially a simple series of tests led inexorably to the Five Star Award. For some time I had felt that we required an athletic equivalent of the A.S.A. Survival and Proficiency Awards. Most national athletics standards schemes seemed to me to be directed at the top-level performer and this, in my view, tended to strengthen the image of athletics as an elite activity, an image which I felt was damaging to the sport.

Accordingly, in late 1966 I put a rough Awards Scheme (originally called the Olympics Award Scheme) to the Southern Counties A.A.A. Coaching Committee. I conceived the Scheme as one for children of all levels of ability, with 80% of children securing the One Star Award and 10% the Five Star Award. From the beginning I felt that it should be an all-round award, with children taking three events, at least one of which would have to be a field event.

Five Star Award Scheme

The next step was the formation of a specialist committee, comprising experts from the English Schools A.A., the Milocarian Club and any individual whom I felt could make a contribution. It was decided to start the Scheme, which was called the Five Star Award (The B.O.A. had vetoed the use of the word 'Olympic') on a pilot basis, using Harrow, Buckinghamshire and Cambridgeshire as test-areas. The Committee agreed that the Award had to operate with the minimum of paper-work, and that it should be made to appeal to the complete range of athletics ability.

We were fortunate to have Derek Hayward to organise the Scheme. In a matter of weeks he had constructed scoring-tables and had arranged the printing of tens of thousands of certificates. By the end of the 1967 summer term, over 2,000 certificates had been issued. Teachers were unanimous in their praise. 'This has made athletics live at my school' was one comment.

There were, however, several weaknesses in the scoring-tables which the pilot scheme had clearly revealed. This particularly related to the throws, in which few children had scored highly. In collaboration with David Pickup, the Cambs. representative, Derek Hayward revised the tables so that parity between track and field events could be achieved.

In the autumn of 1967, the S.C.A.A.A. gave me permission to approach sponsors with a view to securing sponsorship for the Scheme in 1968. This sponsorship was quickly secured though it has not, for a variety of reasons, yet come into full operation. However, the S.C.A.A.A., backed by its Finance Committee, decided to go ahead alone, this time on a more ambitious basis, in that badges as well as certificates were to be awarded.

I had always conceived the Five Star Scheme as a national one, using the South as a test-area. When, therefore, the A.A.A. expressed an interest in an award for schoolchildren I suggested the Five Star Award as one which had already been tried and tested and it was decided to spread the Scheme into Wales, the Midlands and the North on a pilot basis.

The Scheme is now therefore in operation, in various different evolutionary states, in all regions of the country. Athletics, though it is one of the major summer sports in most school programmes, has never become a deeply-rooted part of our sports culture. The Five Star Award will, I hope prove to be a step in the long road towards establishing athletics as a national sport. Lynn Davies puts it well:—

"I only wish that something like this had existed when I was at school.

"Unfortunately, many schoolchildren shy away from athletics because of the highly competitive nature of the sport. This, I feel, is a great pity as athletics is to me the most basic and enjoyable of all sports. To run, jump and throw are activities to be enjoyed by all children.

"Someone once said 'the most important thing in athletics is not to beat your opponent, but to exceed your own previous best performance'. This, I think is very true.

Here then, is the great value of the Five Star Award Scheme for schools. It is possible to pit one's skill against the formidable opposition of tape and stop-watch without the high pressure of human opponents, which for many children proves a harrowing experience. The standards are fair and are arranged to cater for a wide range of physical abilities.

"I am sure it will give a great incentive to children and sincerely hope it becomes widely used in school athletics."

Spielberg Hurls Discus 202' 3"

THE duel for women's discus throwing supremacy between East and West Germany took a new turn when European champion Christine Spielberg, from Karl-Marx-Stadt, broke Liesel Westermann's world record with a throw of 202' 3"/61.64 in East Berlin on May 26th. This was an improvement of over 11½ feet for 6'0½", 185lb Christine. Born at Niederlungwitz on December 21st, 1941, she has shown the following progress: 1958—134'3"/40.92, 1959—148'0"/45.11, 1960—159'10"/48.73, 1961—159'11"/48.75, 1962—169'0"/51.51, 1963—171'8"/52.34, 1964—171'5"/52.26, 1965—179'3"/54.64, 1966—190'7"/58.10, 1967—184'10"/56.34, 1968—202'3"/61.64.

Two particularly notable marks at an international meeting in Rome on May 18th/19th were Eddy Ottoz's 13.5 high hurdles (no less than sevenths ahead of 13.8 performer Hinrich John) and a 21'7"/6.58 long jump by Maria Vittoria Trio. Those great Polish veterans Jozef Szmidt and Janusz Sidlo won their events with fine performances of 53'4½"/16.27 and 275'3"/83.90 respectively.

American News

From Joe Henderson

PROFUSION OF GREAT HURDLE TIMES

AS if it weren't tough enough already, the US hurdle corps has picked up some more punch. This year's 13.5-and-faster highs group became stronger by three members on May 18th, as did the 51.0-and-under intermediates crowd.

Slow-starting Willie Davenport, who hadn't enjoyed overwhelming success in the early season, picked up momentum by improving his seasonal best by two-tenths to 13.5 at Beaumont, Tex. He handily whipped another 13.5 man, Harvey Nairn (13.7 here). Leon Coleman matched his lifetime best of 13.5, which he needed to defeat up-and-coming Jeff Howser—also 13.5. Howser's previous fastest was 13.8 (13.7w). Seven Americans are between 13.3 and 13.5 so far this year. One of them, Earl McCullough, had 13.4 and 13.8 in his latest meet. Richmond Flowers, for his part, ran two 13.6s and a 13.7 in one meet.

Newly under 51.0 in the 440 intermediates were Geoff Vanderstock (50.6) and Paddy McCrary (50.7), who ran in the same race, and Dave Kudron, whose 51.0 was his best-ever by 0.9 sec. Eight athletes competing here are now at or below the 51.0 level, six of them Americans. Another likely candidate for this group emerged on May 18th. Martin McGrady, smiling and relaxed as he semi-high jumped the last few hurdles (his form needs work), ran 51.8 in his initial effort at the event.

Jim Ryun still hasn't run a serious open half-mile or mile (he did have a mildly fast 1500) since his late March injury. Running at 5350-foot altitude on May 18th, he coasted through a double of 4:10.7 and 1:50.9 880. He claimed that the 880 "really hurt. I felt like quitting." But no one who saw him sprint from the pack in the last 100 yards took that too seriously.

In a virtually solo effort, Van Nelson became the first American to crack the difficult Olympic 10,000m qualifying standard of 29:00. Van whipped around the original Tartan track (first one installed anywhere) in 28:54.4, with a 27:56.8 six-mile en route.

That amazing 18-year-old, Mark Murro, is stepping more and more boldly into world class. On March 18th he hurled himself into this country's 1968 javelin lead with 273'0"/83.21. It was a 4½-foot personal-best improvement by the prodigy. His elders, needless to say, are watching him with awe, and a nervousness that borders on terror.

Ex-world record holder John Pennel is making good on his come-back promises. He couldn't clear a height in his first meet, but in his second he vaulted 16'0"/4.87 to win. These were his first meets since the 1967 indoor season. The man who took the record away from him (and subsequently lost it himself), Bob Seagren, meanwhile continues to perform amazingly well. He made 17'2½"/5.24 in his latest meet. Injury plagued

Paul Wilson, Seagren's team-mate, withdrew without vaulting.

The University of Southern California's 440 relay team ran its third straight 39.3 on May 18th; while the same day Craig Wallace joined Jim Hines as the world's fastest 100-yard dashman in 1968 with a legal 9.2.

Clayton Wins Marathon Trial

Derek Clayton, the world's fastest marathoner, won the Australian Olympic trial at Hobart on May 25th in 2:14:47.8, the second best time of his career. He and another English-born athlete, John Farrington, shared the lead for 21 1/2 miles before Clayton drew away to win by nearly two minutes. Ian Wheeler, late of Herne Hill Harriers, was third. No place times are yet available.

Leading results from the Australian Universities Championships at Brisbane on May 21st/23rd were—100m/200m: Phil King 10.4/21.3; 400m: Ross Wilson 47.7; 800m/1500m: Ian Jones 1:47.8/3:46.4; LJ/TJ: Mike McGrath 23'9"/7.24 & 49'7"/15.11; women's 100m/200m/400m: Marion Hoffmann 11.9/24.5/58.5.

Ray Rigby (20) has forsaken the shot for the time being—and made the Olympic team as a weight lifter. He totalled 1030 1/2 lb in the heavy-weight division trials. Steeplechaser Trevor Vincent, who missed the 1966/67 season because of Achilles tendon operation, returned to run a 4:12.3 mile in Melbourne on March 2nd.

Western District Championships, at Westerlands, May 25th. Strong winds prevented performances reaching the standard expected but Les Piggott was one of those who took advantage of the wind to clock a good sprint double. After winning the mile easily in 4:17.4 Ian McCafferty came up against Lachie Stewart in the "3." After the former had gone through a 4:21.9 first mile he slowed up and Stewart went ahead. McCafferty put in a strong finish over the last 660 however to pull away decisively.

GREATEST EVER ROAD RUN BY RON HILL?

Wins Pembroke and Northern "20" in 1:36.28 at Huyton on May 25th

WEATHER conditions for the 15th Annual Pembroke "20" were ideal for the athletes, with steady rain, mild temperatures and no wind. The 110 starters were very quickly headed by Ron Hill, obviously out for a very fast time, who was 100 yards up after the first mile.

At the end of the first of the four laps (each 72½ yards under 5M) Hill's time was 23.16 to Mike Freary's 24.47 with Lawson, Laurie Austin, Norman, Hague and Walsham all close behind. By the completion of the second lap (145 yards under 10 miles) Hill's time was an incredible 46.50. Freary, running in his first "20" and aiming "only to run 1:42, went through very composed in 50.08, a long way ahead of Austin, Norman and Hague (all 51.42). The next through were Roger Robinson, Walsham and Brockbank with the Sutton trio of Renshall, Woolford and McLoughlin close behind.

Inside of tiring as one might have expected, Hill continued to increase his lead on the third circuit and passed "15" (minus only 217½ yards) in 70.57! A comfortable Freary went through in 75.22 followed by Austin and Brockbank (77.22), then Norman, Hague and Lawson (77.24). The question everyone was now asking was could Ron Hill hang on to better the world best for 20 miles (1:39.08 by Graham Taylor) and his own course record: a previous world best of 1:40.55.

As usual the finish was on the running track, adding a distance of 290 yards thus making the exact 20 miles. With Hill approaching, the timekeepers took up their positions excitedly, looking eagerly at the track entrance time and again. Then the slight figure of the Bolton runner appeared, covering the ground at almost the same amazing pace he started at. Up the pathway he ran, onto the track and through the finishing tape, stopping the watch at a phenomenal 1:36.28. In second place Freary clocked an excellent 1:42.01, undoubtedly showing that he has a great future at the Marathon distance, but the day was Hill's. It must be classed as his best-ever run and was all the more praiseworthy for the fact that he never, at any time, had a rival to pull him along. Afterwards a spectating ex-International commented: "It'll be a long time before we see running like here again, on two legs anyway."

Southern Women's ChampionshipsAt Chiswick, June 1st*A MEMORABLE FURLONG RACE

LILLIAN BOARD came to last Saturday's sun-drenched Southern Championships in search of speed, hoping to clip a few tenths off her best official furlong time of 24.5. She departed a very delighted young lady for not only did she win the 220 title (apologising afterwards to Della James for invading her preserve!) but was timed in a scintillating 23.7, following a 23.8 heat less than an hour earlier. What a wonderful boost this is to Lillian's morale, for although her ambitions still centre on the 400 and 800 metres she has proved herself to be in world class as a sprinter, faster even than her inspiration, Ann Packer. Coach Denis Watts was beaming all over, too, for in one afternoon his star pupil's "preservation time" (based on passing 200m in 25.0 in a 400m race) has improved from a mere 0.6 sec. to a luxurious 1.4 sec. Lillian's next two races—a quarter at Brighton on June 9th ("I think I can break 55", she says with classic under-statement) and a half at the star-studded Reading Gala Night of Sport on June 12th—should make highly interesting viewing.

Meanwhile, that 220 final at Chiswick was one of the most stirring sprint races I have ever seen. Della was drawn in lane 4, Lillian in 5. Della got a magnificent start (right on the borderline but legal, I thought) and took an early lead but Lillian, also away smartly, hit the straight level. Then followed a remarkable sight; from my position on the grass bank halfway along the back straight I lost sight of Lillian—she was completely masked by Della as they matched absolutely identical strides! Eventually, Lillian showed ahead just before the end and had a foot or two to spare at the tape, as both girls were credited with 23.7—0.4 inside the Olympic qualifying and just a tenth outside of Daphne Slater's UK record. Remember, too, that Maureen Tranter clocked the same time at Aldersley recently. Janet Simpson was third in 24.3, her fastest for two years, while Marlow Hadler (24.3) and Madeleine Cobb (24.5), the latter in her 14th season of championship competition, also set personal bests.

Three other events yielded Olympic qualifiers. Mary Green easily disposed of Anne Smith in the quarter to clock 55.2, only 0.4 outside her best; Barbara Inkpen high jumped 5'8" at the second attempt, having earlier placed third in the long jump with 19'8½"; while Ann Wilson won that event with a personal best of 20'8½" into a light breeze. The standard of long jumping was encouraging, for Maureen Barton reached 20'1" (narrowly fouling at 20'5"), Jacqueline Caswell 19'8" and Val Fox (16) 19'7" after leading from the second round until Ann's big leap in the fourth. Later—much later—Ann clocked 11.0 in the hurdles final, a tenth behind Pat Pryce. It should be mentioned here that the meeting ran from noon until 7 p.m., a very taxing schedule for competitors, officials and spectators alike. Any chance of farming out some of the preliminaries to a Friday evening session in future?

Other highlights included a successful mile debut by Carol Firth, who overhauled pace-setter Margaret Moir in the last few yards with a 71.5

Northern Women's Championships

At Middlesbrough, June 1st

Comfortable Victory By Pam Piercy

WITH her closest rival Christine Jefferson absent (having reportedly been involved in an accident) Pam Piercy scored a comfortable win in the half-mile. After a 65 first lap Piercy went to the front, Jane Perry challenged briefly but Piercy pulled well away on the back straight and won rather more easily than might have been anticipated. Scoring a good double in the sprints, Val Peat defeated the formidable Northern sprint line-up and showed that she could be the main rival to Anita Neil for the No. 1 spot over 100 yards/metres. Equally impressive was Sue Midgley, for so long overshadowed by Hyman-coached Denise Ramsden and Linda Barratt, but at last coming into her own with a fine double in the Intermediate events.

Christine Perera dominated the hurdles and should prove the only Northern challenger to the might of Pat Pryce, Pat Jones and Ann Wilson. Rather more surprising was the Junior hurdling and sprinting successes of Julie Rainford, who one has come to expect to see win National Cross Country titles rather than area sprint medals.

RON GROVE WINS INTER-COUNTY "20"

A GAINST a backcloth of swirling fairground music and crashing dodgems Ron Grove led, quite literally, from the gun to the tape in the Inter-County 20 Miles Road Race. On a hot, clammy, windless day, he set a storming pace, quite determined to crash the field, but in the final analysis very nearly fell victim to his own dogged courage. After five miles (24.12) Grove led Dennis Cox and Keith Angus by 31 seconds—an indication of the conditions is the fact that they ultimately finished 20th and 27th respectively. Colin Kirkham and Graham Taylor went through in 24.52, Wally Bent 24.57, Eric Austin 25.00, Bob Graham 25.08, Brian Kilby and John Newsome 25.21. At this point Dave Holt and Gerry North were running a very cagey race, back in about 20th place.

Came the half-distance (49.00) Grove still looked great and led by 80 seconds from Kirkham (50.20) and Angus (50.33). Next came Cox, Bent and Austin (51.00), Juan Taylor (who had to drop out with thigh trouble) 51.15, Kilby 51.20, Bob Graham 51.42 and Graham Taylor 51.45. Interesting to note that only three of the leading ten at the halfway point were up there at the finish, and that three of the remainder had to drop out. Exactly one-quarter of the 64 starters fell by the wayside.

With five miles left Grove had increased his lead still further (75.02) but now looked rather less than comfortable. Second was Kirkham (76.45), then Dave Holt (77.20), Bent 77.26, Austin 77.33, Kilby 77.45, D. Rhodes 78.10, Gerry North 78.15, A. Richards 78.30 and Newsome (79.00). In the closing stages Grove, by now struggling, lost ground to a still-comfortable Kirkham with Dave Holt, despite losing an argument with a car, closing on both of them. At the tape, however, Grove held an 11-second advantage, but as he crossed the line he was too weary even to raise a smile.

Ron Grove, 29, is a shift worker and often has difficulty finding time to train. "I have to train when I can, in the morning some weeks and in the evening other weeks." Despite this he generally manages to clock up 80 miles per week. A very mild, likeable man he wants to make the Olympic Marathon squad ("Well, it would be very nice, wouldn't it?") but cannot see himself doing it because of the irregular working hours. Ideally, his employers could let him off shift work for the period leading up to the Games, but he feels he should not ask "as they are already very good to me about things like time off for trips abroad. I didn't run too well today, although I won. I was absolutely dead at the end and if Colin had challenged I don't think I could have responded. I planned to start off at a cracking pace and then settle back to five-minute miling. But the heat really took it out of me. But then if you are going to run in Mexico you've got to be able to take the heat, haven't you?"

MEXICO CONTEST WINNER

WINNER of the competition organised by Athletics Weekly and Women's Athletics is the well-known NUTS member, Bob Sparks, of Worcester Park, Surrey. His prediction of 10:04.9 as the combined winning time of the Southern and Northern women's mile championships proved to be the nearest approach to the actual figures of 10:06.5 (Carol Firth 5:00.3, Phyllis Lewis 5:06.2). Bob has thus won himself a free trip to the Mexico City Olympics with the Athletics Weekly tour!

threw the discus an incredible 242ft. (73.76) in training! "There was a gale blowing, about 60 m.p.h., and I decided to see what I could do. I could barely stand up, but it went 242 feet."

JOHNSTON'S AGONISING ORDEAL

Racing his first marathon, at Mexico City on May 26th, Tim Johnston held a six-minute lead after 30km but, suffering from violent stomach cramp in the later stages, he was caught just outside the stadium. Pablo Garrido won in 2:30:49.6, with Tim pluckily finishing (to an ovation from the crowd) in 2:31:35.6. He returns to Britain next month.
